I've built a bridge, all of my strength cannot cross over I stand at the edge, the end of a road that I have followed
Sinking from the weight of my own world
Wanting the waves of Your ways to wash my feet

Healing waters, healing waters Solace flows through the river of forgiveness to my soul
Oh, I need You, healing waters

Pour over me water to clean all my intentions Baptizing streams, I swim in the freedom of redemption
Floating on the sea of purity
Knowing I can dive in the love that rescues me

Healing waters, healing waters
Solace flows through the river of forgiveness to my
soul
Oh, I need You, healing waters

Memories are raging high Floods so deep they touch the sky
All the things I've done to You

All the parts of a life untrue
Healing comes from outstretched hands
Saving me from what I am, carry me

Healing waters, healing waters
Solace flows through the river of forgiveness to my
soul
Oh, I need You, healing waters

Healing waters, healing waters
Solace flows through the river of forgiveness to my
soul
Oh, I need You, healing waters
