It's hard to say goodbye
So pack up your secrets
Nobody asks you if it hurts
Just if you keep it

You're counting the steps
Of what you have left

When your hands
Worn down to the bone
And you're not sure
You can stand on your own
And the darkness
Won't leave you alone
Well I will guide you home

When it all falls down
And you wish you could fall too
Did you call out for this life
Or did it call you

You're the stars, 1, 2
Is there anything left

When your hands
Worn down to the bone
And you're not sure
You can stand on your own
And the darkness
Won't leave you alone
Well I will guide you home

When your hands
Worn down to the bone
And you're not sure
You can stand on your own
And the darkness
Won't leave you alone
Well I will guide you home
