Still i'm having a hard time, but i'm keeping the pace
Can we all keep up with this world's rat race?
Climb out of bed and just help add to the fray
You've got to stand and face another day, yeah

I know i said it! there ain't no easy way out
Unless you find some motivation
You won't regret it!
It's getting harder every day

Know what to do, but it ain't getting done
No one ever said it was so hard
Been there before and i'll be there again
Try to find the strength to walk away

I think i read it! it said you try and try again
But i'm still stuck in the same place
I hope you're listening!
But you're just staring
Into space

Know what do do, but it ain't getting done
No one ever said it was so hard
Been there before and i'll be there again
Try to find the strength to walk away

Know what do do, but it ain't getting done
No one ever said it was so hard
Been there before and i'll be there again
Try to find the strength to walk away
