And when you slide away, think of me when you go
And when you brush your hair, think of me when you're gone
'cos waiting gives the devil time and you're on my mind.
Please forget those wedding chimes 'cos I'll keep you
in,
this heart of mine.

Please, don't ever change,
I like you just the way you are.
Please for heaven's sake,
because it's not sad and it's not true,
everyone here is still in love with you.

And when the twinkle dies, is your smile taxfree ?
And when you lose those eyes, will you still stand by me ?
Because you don't belong to a blue day, you should smile away.
If you need to leave this sweet street, hang your name
nearby,
so I can drop by.

Don't leave me on this moon, my fears all wait in here,
my shadow's breathing down my neck, just to get you back.
I hate you more this way, then words could ever say,
oh but don't take this so seriously, no,
because you know,
this isn't me...

Please, don't ever change,
I like you just the way you are.
Please for heaven's sake,
because it's not sad and it's certainly not true,
everyone here is still in love with you.
