

Sum 41 "Reason To Believe"

I've been waiting for something for so long
To show me the answers that I want
A reason to believe in that's so strong
But I don't think that it exists

I've been waiting for something for so long
To show me the answers that I want
A reason to believe in that's so strong
But I don't think that it exists

Yeah, give me reason to believe it's what's not in the machine
When everywhere's a dead end in every direction
Yeah, can you give me what I need or just sit and watch me bleed?
'Cause after all you can't get everything you want now

But all we need is love
Faith to keep me moving on

Everybody's got a secret, can you tell me what is mine?
Can you tell me what you'd find
I'll tell you if you keep it
I promise not to lie, ooh

Well, I have the fears
The pain and the tears I just can't hide
It all disappears 'cause everything passes with the tide
All you need is reason to believe
