I remember her,
the gurl who wouldn't die.
She said it wasn't true.
I knew it was a lie.
People on the street,
would cry out if they knew.
the things that I have done,
to make the dream come true.
when she blew my mind away,
all the feelings were betrayed.
Heaven would squeeze her,
hell would release her
into my brain.

La la, la la la la
La la la la la
La la la la la
And I swear she looked surprised,
when I joined the freak show guys.
Under the Big Top,
I was a cyclops,
with two eyes.
When morning turned to night,
she said it was a hoax.
And when she came with me,
she said it was a joke.
I still hear the beat,
and it makes me wanna fly.
For I could not compete,
the the gurl who wouldn't die.
In a million little years,
all the waiting to be here.
Hell could'nt crush me,
heaven would brush me,
out of the tear!!!!!!

La la, la la la la
La la la la la
La la la la la
