There was a time when it was just you and me
Until they came and made us all obsolete

This is the way the universe ends

What was once exciting soon gave way to something new
Define a generation by the life forms that they knew

It was a love affair with wayfarers and information

They are among us the children sang
Not with a whimper but with a bang

This neglect has made it all clear to me
The time has come to exit life gracefully

This is the way the universe ends

Proof of life is carbon I am everything you're not I'll leave you to each other because you share a single god

It was a love affair with travellers and information

They are among us the children sang
Not with a whimper but with a bang

Death of the robot
