Everytime I ask you how you feel
It's like rolling the dice
It's like spinning the wheel
Everytime I ask if you'll be true
It's like doubling down
When all you got is a two

When gambling on a love take this advice
The odds are stacked so you just might pay the price
When gambling on a love take this to heart
Push may come to shove, but that's a start

Everytime I say I've had enough
You raise me ten and call my bluff
Everytime I send my warm regards
I'm looking twos but showing my cards

When gambling on a love take this advice
The odds are stacked so you just might pay the price
When gambling on a love take this to heart
Push may come to shove, but that's a start
Giddyup

When gambling on a love take this advice
The odds are stacked so you just might pay the price
When gambling on a love take this to heart
Push may come to shove, but that's a start
Push may come to shove, but that's a start
