Separated from everything that must be done to obey
It didn't matter then
All that mattered was summer time and hanging with your friends
What does that mean now?
Running and never worrying
And Falling for days

Yesterday to live was easy the years have changed me
We lost our way the time has changed us
I miss those days

Complicated, time is my name hurry up lets go
I'm late for work again
The days are long and I'm slowly fading
Somehow I'll get through Well I've got shit to do
Running and never worrying
And falling for days

We lost our way, the time has changed us I miss those days
I miss those days

Feeling and killing and always asking why

We lost our way and time has changed us I miss those
