Friendship growing stronger
As the days pass by
I promise to give it my best
If you just try
I know this can work
It will take some time
I'll never take away
What we have inside
I'll turn to you
And you'll be there
Because I still need you
If you still care
And in the end
I'll know I can count on you
No matter what happens
I'll still be true
I'll be true
We may disagree
And we may fight
But I'll admit it
If I'm not right
Different minds
One common goal
It's you I'll remember when I grow old
If I turn around and you're not there
I think back on the moments we have shared
Go, go go!
