Written by Micky Braun

Even I could see that it was my fault

I didn't have the guts to leave you

I just thought that it would fall apart

And in time that we would be through

But not this time

No, not this time

It was apparent you were falling in love

All I could see is I wasn't good enough

And I've never been good at breaking hearts

I've tried and I just fall apart

And I don't know what to say or what to do

All I know is I'm trying not to hurt you

I don't know what the hell could be wrong with me

I just always try to run away

I guess that I could try to be happy

But in time everybody's gotta pay

But not this time

No, not this time

It was apparent you were falling in love

All I could see is I wasn't good enough

And I've never been good at breaking hearts

I've tried and I just fall apart

And I don't know what to say or what to do

All I know is I'm trying not to hurt you

All I know is I'm trying not to hurt you

All I know is I'm trying not to hurt you
