My Mind still buzzes about you
And I often whisper why
I know that I'm still all about you
It's such a waste of time

Pondering on what could have been,
I know that it'll never be
I know it's superficial but your everything I need

I wish I could say some things to you
I just need a second or phrase

(Chorus)
Then I would say Hey
I like the way you move
I would say HEY
I like the way you portray yourself
I would ask you for your heart
And I'd return the favor
No pay backs, or returns
This is non-refundable
And I would say Hey

Let's lighten the mood I'll say
I'd offer you that glass
You said why not and took it
I saw that as an important start
I believe in your eyes I saw something new
But I still have one important question for you

I wish I could say some things to you
I just need a second or phrase

(Repeat Chorus)

We should get up and get to dancing
You agreed and I took your hand inside of mine
A sign of things to come
You were one of those people I wish I'd met earlier

(Repeat Chorus x2)
