Let's breathe, so that we can make apologies seem short
And words we shared that night got lost

Let's break this heart in half to reveal the truth inside the lies
And start a new life

I'm crippled by your wordlessness
Your utter disturbing silence
It's killing me inside
Wish that you'd come to life
Be honest with me please
Cause now you can see that I'm over
I'm falling from your sight

Words are whispered and unapproachable
Silenced by your atrocities

You're breaking me down inside
My heart is ripped in two
I believe that we can
Find one between us

I'm not someone to talk too
I thought that we were closer
Lies don't materialize
Before they come full circle

You're breaking me down inside
My heart is ripped in two
You leave me feeling empty
Find one

You're breaking me down inside
My heart is ripped in two
I believe that we can
Find one between us

I thought you were mad at me just like you thought about me

But I think your lying Come full circle I'll figure things out
I'll know eventually
Those nights you wasted
Wasted my time, when I could be doing something else

You're breaking me down inside
My heart is ripped in two
You leave me feeling empty
Find one

You're breaking me down inside
My heart is ripped in two
I believe that we can
Find one between us
