Remembering the night,
The night we watched the moon burn out,
You turned to me and smiled
And touched me with flowers

I wanted to tell you
But the bells were too loud
Some things are better left unsaid
(left alone)

By the last few shreds of sanity
I hang
Suffocating in silence
Emptiness takes my hand and leads me...
Away

Are you my sanctuary?
Could you be my hide-away?
Are you the candle in the window?
Of my one room insanity?
Are you my savior?
Could you be my cross?
Can you give me all I miss?
Even though the flowers still smell of loneliness?

By the last few shreds of sanity
I hang
Suffocating in silence
Shadows take my hand and lead me...
Away
