I'll be your candle
When you need some light
I'll be your shadow
When you need to hide

I could be anything you want
If you let me be by your side
You could be my one and only love

You are like an angel
That fell from the sky
Who washed away
All the scars of my life

You could be everything to me
If you only let me see
What's inside your mind

Just let me be the only one King
For the most beautiful Queen
During my time you should be mine
Your love belongs to my life

You could be everything to me

Just let me be the only one King
