I relive this pain every night 'cos you wouldn't make me free

The river sleeps without water and there's less air to breath

I arrived the desert of dreams, could this be where I belong

My home is infinite reality, not even prayers will carry on

Don't abandon your child, oh fathers cave
My words freeze in your air, I'm afraid

The wind is cold where I rest, my tears are ice again There's useless beat in my chest under winters cold veil

Don't abandon your child, oh fathers cave

Don't abandon me
