I loved her yesterday but yesterday's over
No I love her today but soon that's gone
Mornings feel like I can't get any older
Night after night I talk to my bones

Try show me what you got
Might be what I needed
Take me to your dark edges
I tell you where we meet

Run through the highway
Your everything ain't enough
Break out of your glasschains

I laugh as I day, I pissed all the way
Hey poor boy your wealth is what you spend

Try show me what you got
Might be what I needed
Take me to your dark edges
I tell you where we meet

Run through the highway
Your everything ain't enough
Break out of your glasschains

Six feet down, can't get any older
And I loved her yesterday but that's long gone

Run through the highway
Your everything ain't enough
Break out of your glasschains
