Beneath the ground without a sound
Sentenced by the beauty
I stare the sun, the brightest heart
From where the purest hate flees

You're all I have found
Above this ground
This dust without a beauty
This only sun with beating heart
Save me from this blade of greed

Cloak of the stars buries my heart
At my end I'll see your eyes

You ride with the wolf
You're covered with cold blood
I still would be where you are
You carry the snake
Embraced by two cold hearts
I still would be there you are

I stare the sun, the brightest heart
From where the purest hate flees
Cloak of the stars buries my heart
At my end I'll see your eyes

You ride with the wolf
You're covered with cold blood
I still would be where you are
You carry the snake
Embraced by two cold hearts
I still would be there you are
