Strong burning heart never cries for release
Twist in a tale is what it needs
Minutes crawl like maggots
Wears just like a disease
I'll find the twist that I need

Don't trust me with your dreams
I've got my own troubles waiting...

This blood, the poison
Carves my skin but you won't hear me calling
Don't need no fools, don't want your rules
This blood, the poison
Carves my skin but you don't see me crawling
Don't need no fools, don't want your rules

Praise the ground under my wings, I'll meet you there
Until then cross the sky without a care

Don't trust me with your dreams
I've got my own troubles waiting...

This blood, the poison
Carves my skin but you won't hear me calling
Don't need no fools, don't want your rules
This blood, the poison
Carves my skin but you don't see me crawling
Don't need no fools, don't want your rules
