I know this show
Been there observing how far it can go
Lots of lies, suspicion and many hidden minds
So aware of the power that blinds

But I discovered my eyes
No way, not enough guts to break these gyves

Confusing minds whose hearts she'll tear
So that one finds it all so clear
Igniting fire, it's desire burns in embers till the end
Seductive way of behaving
And she might say it meant nothing
Never giving into temptation

And after I had been receiving Job's post
My welkin seemed to be so clouded
Covered with dark gown

But it was not to be shown
I still remember that lachrymal sky

Affection seeker!
