From above and look around
You will see
A guidance from colour
Explained through each other
Just like how I think
I feel betrayed and start to only see
That people are much duller
Than their painted colours
Just like how I think
Draw me that smile, draw me that look,
Draw me your eyes towards mine
Draw me a smile, draw me that look
And draw me in, draw me in now.
And I hope you will and I hope you kill
Everything that I am,
Everything that I stand for
But is it easier to fight?
I always feel I'm on the run
Pull the lever bring it back
Watch the gauge as it breaks
But is it easier to fight
I always feel I'm on the run
Join the ranks, join the ranks
Join the ranks, join the ranks
