We set sail at dawn to reach the tide
And leave the shores in flames
No men alive, no horses left
We leave a trail of death
When daylight sets at dusk
And the shores out of the reach
The northstar guides us on our quest
As we ride the dragon's breath
After many months at sea gone by
They hail our safe return
Beneath the hammer
We ride the dragon's breath
We ride the dragon's breath
We ride the dragon's breath
We set sail at dawn to reach the tide
And leave the shores in flames
No men alive, no horses left
We leave a trail of death
When daylight sets at dusk
And the shores out of the reach
The northstar guides us on our quest
As we ride the dragon's breath
We ride the dragon's breath
