Rest in peace to the late great Whitney Houston
We just lost one of heaven's angels, it's a thang Twista ya,
Still so young, I can't see... here we go

What? Somebody told me Whitney Houston died Can't believe to tell you how quickly tears went through my eyes
She was getting better now it's really just flew aside
I still ain't got over Don Cornelius' suicide
So where do I start it? Dearly departed One of heaven's angels for sure who was really an artist
Loving the way that my mama was saying she can sing in a way that's magical Ain't nobody like you, nobody before you and nobody after you
Can never come near you
Not hearing the ... but you with us as spirit So sad to hear it, I'm choking up while I come up with these lyrics
And though she blessed the earth and it's time to let heaven prosper
I still wish somebody was there to protect her
Who? Kevin Costner, Who? Clive Davis, Who? Bobby
Brown
Her mama and her daughter, Whitney is ... now
Such a short time, don't want it to be this way
But if she was here, she would probably say

If I should stay,
I would only be, in your way
So I'll go but I know
I'll think of you
Every step of the way X 2
