"By My Hand"

I am reckless abandon, in my clutch I hold the key
Of all that will and will not be, I can see the future
I am the dealer of pain, in every tragic deadly day

I could wash it all away
Have fire fall like rain
Erasing every trace of man
Steal the stars out of the sky
Humanity crucified
Kingdoms crumble by my hand

Those who breathed the poison, how it dried their veins away
To dust they will return, madmen I've created Oh the blood they spill for me, as their rotting minds decay
