Leave me all alone,
There ain't nobody callin' on my telephone,
Because I ripped that bitch right up outta the wall,
I apologize to any of y'all that tried to call.
I haven't been myself lately,
I been slowly losin' my mind
And tell 'em it's gravy.
I'm lookin' hella shady
And I haven't showered in weeks
I haven't washed my balls,
I haven't brushed my teeth.
All I see is demons everywhere that I look
Was it the Ouija, the Black Magic Warlock Book?
I can't remember!
But how can my memories leave me?
I can't believe the spirits would try to recieve me!
But they did, just like a little kid
I was so eager to learn, so willin' to give
But all they did was hate me and break me
Used my body for a host,
And my mirror for the gateway!

Something... is wrong with me...
I can't be who I need to be...
Something... is wrong with me...
Will it last for eternity?
Something... is wrong with me...
I can't be who I need to be...
Something... is wrong with me...
Will it last for eternity?

Please don't walk away,
I want you to hear what I gotta say.
I never had anyone ever care for me,
I never had anyone ever there for me.
If you would listen to me instead of callin me names,
I would explain why I'm shakin and I'm goin' insane.
My mind is on vacation,
Like a conversation,
I'm like a radio, with static on every station.
Still I wanna know will I be normal again

You say it's bullshit and tell me that it's all pretend
But if it's false then why don't the demons just disappear?
And if it's untrue then why am I seein' them crystal clear?
Because I do, the mirrors turnin' blue.
And soul after soul keeps walkin' right through.
They're livin in my house and livin inside my head,
Some sleep inside the closet, others sleep under the bed.

Something... is wrong with me...
I can't be who I need to be...
Something... is wrong with me...
Will it last for eternity?
Something... is wrong with me...
I can't be who I need to be...
Something... is wrong with me...
Will it last for eternity?

All I wanted to be,
Was a member of a family with unity.
But the people that's a alive because they stab you straight in the back,
And throw a stick in the spokes and flip you off of the track.
If it wasn't for Monoxide and Violent J,
That nigga Jack, Shaggy 2 Dope, and blaze ya dead
homie,
I probably woulda given up and called it quits,
I probably wouldn't be here I probably wouldn't be shit!
I find my self lookin back in the glass,
And reminisce all the times of the present and past.
I'm feelin' strange, I wonder if they can save me,
I'm feelin' cold I'm standing' in front of the gateway.
Here I am, I'm such a crazy man
I'm tryin' to control my life the best that I can.
But the demons are around me tryin' to stray me away,
I thank God that I'm standin' right here today.

Something... is wrong with me...
I can't be who I need to be...
Something... is wrong with me...
Will it last for eternity?
Something... is wrong with me...
I can't be who I need to be...
Something... is wrong with me...
Will it last for eternity?
