All I see is black crowns
King me 'cause this is my time now
So all you other niggas bow down
'Cause all I see on me is black crowns
Black crowns

Uhh, heavenly father, appoint me to the coronation
I deserve it, brought music for clarification
Envision my past, Egypt reincarnated
Negativity hill, over the hump camels waiting
Never gave up, most of my peers forsaken
One make it, we all make it but I delivered that patient
King chronicles, never write it too logical
Fake niggas saying 'What up, fam?' but we ain't biological
Hands down to my mother, she the greatest ever Since I was the only child, wasn't too much to stress her
Waking up before work, leaving allowance on the dresser
Raising the prince under pressure, no king, no refuge
It's all good, got homies like Boyz n the Hood
We all good, I mean no matter what circumstances was Champagne, weed, pills, it do the same
These niggas gassed up, too much butane
Working hard like one day I'll afford the 4-door
Porsche
Approaching every corner cautious
Too much shopping, niggas calling you a target
Too much flossing, niggas gossiping in your blog shit
I rather put one in the air, congratulate careers Death defying moments, people that I ain't seen in years
What you running from when you you're your only fear?
Guess my time is here!
Now..

All I see is black crowns
King me 'cause this is my time now
So all you other niggas bow down
'Cause all I see on me is black crowns

Black crowns

Uhh, fatigue, I'm feeling jaded
She gave me the number but I ain't never saved it Shit is solid, why these niggas played it?
Drew the right cards, but I ain't get to play it
Determine payrolls, living the lifestyle
You couldn't be in if you was to see it right now
I think I see it right now
They judge me every day, life on trial
Take your money, niggas betting on my downfall
Many all real hoes, bitches gonna call
Five fingers, pledge allegiance to my one God
We'd have been through hell, so heaven ain't far
Two cars sedans, tearing it on the way to the Grammys
Guess we nominated, guess they appreciate us
These niggas often imitate us
We just stay creative

All I see is black crowns
King me 'cause this is my time now
So all you other niggas bow down
'Cause all I see on me is black crowns
Black crowns

One time in the, one time in the air for the Two, two, two times in the, two times in the air for
the
Both hands, both hands, both hands in the air for
One time, two times, times

Just wanted to call to let you know how proud I am
Sweetie, this album is amazing
I have never imagined that God would bless you so
