The ceiling's falling in, every time you don't know where you've been
Our love, seventeen to lifetime
I thought I knew, the seasons change when we all stay the same
The pain I felt back then won't ever go away
Echoes call me back to the feeling again
Echoes call me back to the feeling again
Echoes call me back to the feeling again

At this point, I realize love is not an emotion I can neglect
My queen thought I wasn't ready for love.
She was right
What did love mean to me?
It didn't mean anything
Compassion, affection...
I just know I wanna win it back
Can't be a king without love
Love...
