Rain come easy the clouds are here
tell me there must be a reason
the road that i've walked
paved on with fear
im lost but I can't stop breathin'
but I know better, I know know better but I, know better, I know know better but I, know better I
know know better,
that don't make nothin' better

some say I didn't know better usin paper for lyrics instead of scholarship letters tenth grade drop out flew in the worst weather graduated rap class with flyin' feathers holdin' it, like life can't get better check my myspace the kid got it's own banner my top 8 just friends before the bright cameras we all livin' life, can't shhh damage it's one thing in the street homie missin' trust in the fast life in the cup take the pill, drink it up money aint the only thing throwin' up wait, gimme that I mean, you trying to get paid or what?
That;s the sound of getting thrown up that's the ground has my hustle stumps?
I make a fist to keep my brady in the bunch well that means my fettuccine is just piling up

im lost but I can't stop breathin'
but I know better, I know know better but I,

know know better,

if you knew better than that you would do better but you're cool getting your back the lines get severed and you might sit in the back, in a class like whatever but you never getting better, just steady committing errors

how you define the same frame of mind when it's different lines and different guide lines and you can feel it it your spine when it aint right kissing your baby and your bottle in the same night as it goes, never the same every blow, where there's pain sometime but you never know, never gain you never blow, never change sometimes it's a difficult choice, what you want and what you need
it's all some type of greed you lightheaded when you get that green you kiss a stripper in the mouth and watch you tongue bleed

im lost but I can't stop breathin'
but I know better, I know know better but I, know better, I know know better but I, know better I
know know better,

know know better but I, know better, I know know better but I, know better I
know know better,
