I think this whole sky was meant for us
I can see colors and whites collide
Then the good morning will welcome us
And wish us into this brand new year

This is a year worth saving
This is a time to drown our fears
Heaven is holding on
We will find peace in the pieces

This could be the moment that changes us
And make us aware of what we really are Could this cure the failures inside of us
It rips us apart but than fills us back in

This is a year worth saving
This is a time to drown our fears
Heaven is holding on
We will find peace in the pieces

Time is moving on and I miss when you were here
All is well
(all is well)
time will tell
(time will tell)
Everything that we deny, but if we're holding on To everything that we have said, everyday we have

This is a year worth saving
This is a time to drown our fears
Heaven is holding on
We will find peace in the pieces
This is a year worth saving
This is a time to drown our fears
Heaven is holding on
We will find peace in the pieces
This is a year worth saving
This is a time to drown our fears
Heaven is holding on
We will find peace in the pieces
