was it something more then i could never bare to breath cause you always turned around and i could never dream another dream of you gone wrong cause it would tear me down please help me figure out the way im suppose to act right now at this very moment cause i need the help of anyone on any day so please help me find my way maybe im worth your time or maybe im not worth a thing maybe im just a fling well this is how i feel when you were gone everything amounts to what you gave me

all those things we ever tried to say cause living in bliss corrupted system has darkened all our hearts in to a vision that puts us on a path that we will hope you never (break us) and maybe after all weve said and said and done tonight we can undo this fight we can we can we can turn all of these tragedies in tragic memories

memorize my mind and tell me how to live memorize my life and tell me im a kidmake this work all into play.

let them know its all okay let there be another night and let there be another day well i hope you break this and never replace this
