Knowing I commit to this I'll sing
With everything I missed.
If you don't care I will move on
I will look forward towards the things life
Will bring so suddenly free.
Cause you were not there you were all
Gone you were you were you were caught
Waving up at the stars deep into mars. knowing I commit to this.
I'll sing with everything I kissed.
Come to think of it you might not know
Me another mistake you'll never forget
Come to think of it you'll all disown me
A confession of rejection
That was killin your head.
How was I there how were you gone
How was I suppose to see things I didn't see
And songs I couldn't sing.
You were not there you were all gone
You were you were you were caught
Waving up at the stars deep into mars.
Knowing I commit to this Cause I will sing with everything I kissed
