I'm sick of the same old situation messing me up so slowly I'm tired of all those things that you said you'd say and you can't second chance to your own pace from all of the ways you slapped your own face and everything you thought you'd be still i can't go on
can't go on
can't go on
still i can't go on
can't go on

is this the way that i can hold my breath in
and keep my head up high
is this the way that i can
feel like nothing

and here we are spilling our own guts out from all of our lost and lonely's we're tired of all those days that you said you'd say
and you can't second chance to your own pace from all of the days you slapped your own face and everything you thought you'd be
can't go on
still i can't go on
can't go on

is this the way that we will end up now when did you start to doubt if you would open up your heart you'll see is it better off or worse in time question is when and how and I'll be waiting for you to come back to me

(it seems like nothings changing)
