I'm a snow plow, I must now plow on
I'm a snow plow, I'm a settler's son
Well, I'm a storm cloud
(I'm a storm cloud)
Rain myself all over the place

I tell you, I'm a storm cloud
(I'm a storm cloud)
You gotta wipe that storm right off your face
(Wipe that smile right off your face)

There must be one place left in the world
Where the mountains meet the sea
(One place left in the world)

There must be one place left in the world
Where the water's real and clean, yeah
(One place left in the world)

Landslide
(I'm a landslide)
I, I'm a downhill run
(I'm a downhill run)

Well, I'm a landslide
(I'm a landslide)
Open season's, ya, it's just begun
(Open season's just begun)

There must be one place left in the world
(One place left in the world)
Where the skin says it can breathe

There's gotta be one place left in the world
(One place left in the world)
It's a solitude, distance and relief
(One place left in the world)

There's gotta be one place left in the world
(I'm a snow plow)
There has to be one place left in the world

One place
(I'm a snow plow)

(One place left in the world)
I'm a short fuse, I'm a slow blues
(One place left in the world)
I'm a landslide hummin, I'm a downhill runnin'

There must be, there must be
There must be one place left in this world
(One place left in the world)
Where we can be
(One place left in this world)
