I sense the mistaken calmness seeping through the reckless
Hope is wasted on horror, oh the misery
Have we decided to leave the beauty?
I'm hand drawn in a picture of perfection
No sense in finding rest
No sense in finding nonsense

Another day, another dawn, it's all the same
It's as if this road cannot find a curve
Feel the burn of the silence dead upon your skin
Why can't anyone ever hear me scream!

We pass the time and we drift in shame
In a crowd, I'm just another name
Mirror mirror, where has this child gone?
Oh my God!
Cure me of these haunting tribulations
I refuse to return to this banality
Happiness has long held a breath,
I inhaled abject sensation
It's time to exhale

I call it exactly as I see it,
This is cinematic.
Let this finally be comfort.

I'm just another name
