I've been kicking back
Somehow I've been finding distractions everywhere
In the end there's so much
So much else I feel that I must devour
I wrote a song, a melody
Don't pull the covers over me
Maybe I wake up and feel off-kilter
On the wrong path to some dead end
But that isn't all
I protest my right to make my own mistakes
I wrote a song a melody
Don't pull the covers over me
I wrote a song, a melody
Don't pull the covers over me
I wrote a song
To take or leave
What more do you want from me?
It even fed a need in me
Don't pull the covers over me
