"Livin' The Dream"

Funny how things change yet they always stay the same and the simple things in life just get tossed into the flames and I've been down that road before where you just gotta roll the bones I don't have much money in my pocket but I didn't leave none at home

Here I go again on my own
Goin' down the only road I've ever known
Like a drifter I was born to walk alone
And I'll keep livin' the life
Living the dream on my own.

A million roads to go and A million roads behind me I've heard so many stories told
But the good ones never find me I ain't got no crystal ball that's showing me the way I don't know which way I'm goin'
But I'll get there someday singing

Here I go again on my own
Goin' down the only road I've ever known
Like a drifter I was born to walk alone
And I'll keep livin' the life
Living the dream on my own.

And after all I've been through There is nothing left to prove I'm starting to believe we could all live the dream
One day at a time Yes I'm starting to believe
we could all live the dream

Here I go again on my own
Goin' down the only road I've ever known

Like a drifter I was born to walk alone and I've made up my mind
I ain't wasting no more time

Here I go again on my own
Goin' down the only road I've ever known
Like a drifter I was born to walk alone
And and I've made up my mind
I ain't wasting no more time

Here I go again on my own
Goin' down the only road I've ever known
Here I go again on my own
Goin' down the only road I've ever known
Like a drifter I was born to walk alone
And I'll keep livin' the life
Living the dream on my own.
