Well she was lookin' out the window
An' I was starin' at the door
The dog was sleepin' on the sofa
This place has never been this quiet before

You can't pretend it never happened
You can't pretend it's still the same
You can't say you were only jokin'
You can't keep thinkin' at things can go on this way

Somethings you can't take back
Though you wish you could
Some things you can't take back
Though the glass has been broke
An' the milk has been spilled
An' your love's on the line
Some things you can't take back

When someone says there's no tomorrow
When the writings on the wall
After all is cried and spoken
An' your poor heart has taken such a fall

Somethings you can't take back
Though you wish you could
Some things you can't take back
Though the glass has been broke
An' the milk has been spilled
An' your love's on the line
Somethings you can't take back

If I could reset the clock and go back in time
I'd erase the thoughts that went through my mind
You know I never would leave
An' I'd still have you with me

You can't pretend it never happened
You can't pretend it's still the same
You can't say you were only jokin'
You can't keep thinkin' at things can go on this way

Somethings you can't take back

Though you wish you could
Some things you can't take back
Though the glass has been broke
An' the milk has been spilled
An' your love's on the line
Somethings you can't take back
'Cause in the cold light of day the pieces all blew away
An' now I'm livin' a lie
Somethings you can't take back
