You're not coming home tonight
You're out looking for something you saw on T. V.
I'm not going out tonight
I'll be waiting by the phone that wait ring
Let me have it once again
Punish me for something I didn't do wrong
I can take a whole lot more
Give me all you have I know you can be evil

You're out looking for an answer
To a question you don't have

Where were you when I was gone
For away enough so things don't seem wrong
Simply said not simply done
I gave you something seems it came back undone

You're out looking for an answer
To a question you don't have

You're not coming home tonight
You're out looking for something you saw on T. V.
I can take a whole lot more
Give me all you have I know you can be evil

You're out looking for an answer
To a question you don't have]

I can take a whole lot more
Give me all you have I know you can be evil
Give me all you have I know you can be evil
Give me all you have I know you can be evil
