Youre still online way past bedtime, it's a bad sign Two mice, square eyes until sunrise, online all night long
The webmasters rule in this age of digital crime
Your roots wont determine if you will succeed Cyber centurys electronic rules
In a big fight with your website, can't get it right See the bright side, your friends they might think you're alright
We can't stop all these chances when they're ready to come
When we are ready to change
I have troubles to keep up, when does it come to a stop?
The webmasters rule in this age of digital crime
Cyber centurys electronic rules, yeah Technology is cool until were fucked and our brains give up
