We walked alone, in places no one should know.
As we danced along into the night.
Too far from home, too far for safety to show.
And I wondered how wed survive, after all this time.

[Chorus:]

Welcome to the end, Im losing sight of who I am.
Ive given all that I had to defend, the pieces that
will never mend.
Want to justify the guilt thats hanging in your eyes.
Youve shown me all that I needed to find, straight
from the lips of a liar.

Somewhere we fell and started losing ourselves.
And the way its mean to be became nothing more to me
than a dream.
I couldnt find the truth underneath.
So the blame falls on me and it came from the guilty.
So cry yourself to sleep, hoping Ill believe everything.

[Chorus:]

Welcome to the end, Im losing sight of who I a.
Ive given all that I had to defend, the pieces that
will never mend.
Want to justify the guilt thats hanging in your eyes.
Youve shown me all that I needed to find, straight
from the lips of a liar.

[Bridge:]

So go, hide your face in the shame again (are you livin in denial).
Go, as your walking away, you carry the blame, you were
the worst part of me.

[Chorus x2]
