How can I see, shadowed iniquity?
When these eyes deceived and bring my mind into obscurity
Can't find that memory, awake in a dream
Please release my hand, and smile, painful smile.

'Cause you open me up
You take what's inside
Never know how I feel about you
Everything inside it turns blue, are you on my side?

Trying to breathe, forgive the noose that strangles me
Can't keep my head above your flood of insecurities
Watch the rope fray, I need to get away, can I slip away?
It's not the same 'cause your a fake, beautiful mistake
I'll never make the same mistake

'Cause you open me up
You take what's inside
Never know how I feel about you
Everything inside it turns blue, are you on my side?

I'm broken and desperate
You're lost and dead inside
You needed this to happen to satisfy denial

'Cause you open me up
You take what's inside
Never know how I feel about you
Everything inside it turns blue, are you on my side?
