Took a long walk
And a time to separate
For a plank that holds
Heavy thoughts and dire states
The dagger is in my side
The water's a long way
Will the splash break my fall?
Will my breath give away?

She tells me to breathe
Tells me to swim away

The tide is getting high
My wadding's getting thin
The coldness paralyses
My will to live
Regretfully aside
Depending on a break
The patience steps aside
& I make my way

She tells me think clearer thoughts
Tells me to make a change

We said what we said,
We did what we did
I made my way and was done with it

We said what we said,
We did what we did
I made my way
