Still long to go
Been crawling from the bottom
So long ago
Laughter was forgotten

And yet you keep coming back
Pretending that you want me near
For the last time I'm not coming back
Now finding there's still long to go

Nowhere to go
When home is my prison
I can't get hold

And yet you keep coming back
Pretending that you want me near
For the last time I'm not coming back
Now finding there's still long to go

You left me behind
After you led me astray
If I could rewind I'd end up the same.

Still long to go
The death of what is missing
So long ago
And I'm still here
