You took the long road.
But you would never have went this way before
You went too far into this world away from yourself.

You showed the love
And wouldn't have it any other way
You can't explain this to any of those who could make a change. Make that change.

And so you took another step.
You can't believe the things they say to you
You regret all the things that don't comfort you.
And every time I'm by your side
I can't believe the things they say to you
We regret all they couldn't do for you

We can't believe this
It's got them walking the other way
And you're so far between anything you want.
You can regret, you can regret all these things you've become.

You can regret what you become
It's got you so far, a long, long way from home
You can regret, you can regret what you've become It's seems like there's no way you could get them to listen.

You can regret, you can regret, you can regret this thing that you've become
