I'm the desperate
And you're the savior
I'm the desperate
And you're the savior

There's been something, something else
Talking in my ear, someone save me
When I speak, it begins to decay
I'm not about to bury myself

Oh God, my hands are shaking again
Calm down, calm down
Now I can't feel the floor
And my vision takes its toll on me

I'm the desperate
And you're the savior
I'm the desperate
And you're the savior

Oh God, it's racing through my veins
I'm afraid there must be some kinda mistake
Oh, I'm in over my head again

Reach in and grab a hold of me
I'm so scared that I've started to slip
They say that I'll never change
I'll prove them wrong, prove them wrong
It's over, it's over

I hear the calling but it's passing through
Clean me up, show me how to live
I hear the calling but it's passing through
Clean me up, show me how to live
Tear me down, let me start again
