Prop open the door I can actually see my breath tonight
But that doesn't mean I'm breathing
Crack a smile just for the sake of it
This could take a while a long while
Silence is golden especially in this case

I'm not too sure that I want it to be this way
Open mouth closed eyes no words are escaping
It's all a blur it's too dark to see
Ain't it pretty the way it all streaks together at night
Together at night

I think it's time to turn around
I really want to go home tonight
I think it's time to turn around
I really want to go home tonight

I feel like this is going nowhere
I feel like this is going nowhere
Try to think of something quick
And trust the direction of the driver

No lights no lights no signs no signs
I'm at a loss for words
No lights no lights no signs no signs
I'm at a loss for words
I'm at a loss for words

Now conversation sparks
What an easy way to break the ice
Now conversation sparks
What an easy way to break the ice
