

Midtown "Let Go"

Visit "Let Go" on MotoLyrics.com

I know you'll never lose what's lost inside you you're burning down the bridges you've crossed and you're still around so nothing's certain just let go we deserve it if I could chose to start it over I'd exercise more discretion
the lies are abound and nothing's certain do you have good intentions?
come on let go of those affectations you don't fool anyone come on let go if you want to take on the years won't say what happened to you what gains have you earned what friends have you trampled over when you're around nothing's certain just let go we deserve it come on and let go, come on and let go
