You should know
That I would never let you go
Cause I'm here
To bear the weight of years
You turn away
What else is left for me to say
You'll think what you want
It's like we're once again at the (first part)

It's safe to fall if you just trust trust the ground that you stand on
I swear I will never let you down
It's safe to fall if you just trust trust the ground that you
stand on
I swear I will never let you down

You should know
Sometimes it's hard for me to show
My fears
But I'm never insincere
Don't turn away
From what you trusted yesterday
I'm still that person
That you can always depend on

stand on
I swear I will never let you down
It's safe to fall if you just trust trust the ground that you
stand on
I swear I will never let you down

You live and learn
But when I'm gone I won't return
You don't have to feel the burn
And I'll know the time has come
When you wake up alone and find
Truth is not just in the now
