Tell me my friend was I ever in your thoughts while
Skin was to skin to skin
I sure hope it was worth it
I know your way with words
Always pleading for agreement
It builds your self esteem
It's just that most people don't see it
Hiding from the truth could pose long term problems
Questions in your head and no answers to solve them
Should you find me
Should you kill me
Or is it even worth worrying about me
Should you find me
Or should you kill me
Or is it even worth worrying about me
