Thinkin' to myself whats going on in your mind we both well know this won't stand the test of time erasing shady messages you left on my phone the next time that you're calling you get the dial tone wondering if you want to get with my friends or what girl I should've known from the start you're just a slut oh no things are never gonna change oh yeah things will always be the same and you live to far away your voice rings like a bell anyways you're my own worst enemy, enemy when I returned to the pad to pack up everything it dawned on me that you were still wearing my ring when I went to take it back I saw the tears in your eyes but his is how it goes girl so don't act surprised packin' up my shit in my 64' Impala as I pulled away said I could hear the bitch holla' she said she rather be with some other guys just like she was every night when she lied

oh no things are never gonna change
your voice rings like a bell anyways

said the number one girl call my number said shes never gonna come back to slumber
said shes never gonna come back to slumber been driving down the road now I'm driving so much faster been driving so fast I'll never catch her said the number one girl call my number said shes never gonna come back to slumber, no no said the number one girl call my number
said shes never gonna come back to slumber

UNDERWATER gonna call your girls number UNDERWATER gonna have her back to slumber
